WASHINGTON COUNTY

MONTPELIER.

Pietro Garelli of Barre was found guilty of simple assault in county court Friday afternoon, the jury bringing in the verdict after nearly four hours' deliberation. Garelli was charged with assault with intent to kill Eugene Gault at Barre the night of August 7. The defense tried to establish an alibi by putting on witnesses who claimed they were in at the time of the trouble. The assault was the result, it is claimed, of the Barre labor trouble, the majority of the Italians not being in sympathy with actions taken by the other members of the union.

The death of Amphylos B. Clifford, a veteran of the Civil War and a resident of East Montpelier for practically fifty years, occurred Thursday evening at his home, bronchitis and heart trouble being the cause. The deceased was nearly 70 years old and for many years conducted a wheelwright shop in East Montpelier. He was a member of Wyoming Lodge of Masons of North Montpelier and at one time belonged to Brookside Post G. A. R. of this city. He enlisted July 27, 1864, in Co. H, 9th Vermont regiment but was transferred to Co. E of the 5th Vermont. He was discharged from service June 29, 1865. He leaves a wife and two nephews, Eugene and William Whitcomb of Montpelier, and a brother-in-law, G. A. Hilditch of this city. The funeral was held Saturday morning from his home.

In the county clerk's office Friday the general assumption case of G. H. Smille of Montpelier against Frank P. Whitney of Middlesex and the Capital Savings Bank & Trust company was entered, the sum named being $90. Fred Thomas is attorney for the plaintiff. A raiding party headed by Sheriff Frank H. Tracy and including several deputy sheriffs and policemen visited the drug store of George E. McGrath on State street around eight o'clock Saturday evening armed with a search and seizure warrant issued by State's Attorney Eugene Gault. The raid was made on the stable. Levi Tard, who has been around the summer in Hardwick, has returned to town. Mrs. H. Arthur Parker gave a reception at her home Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. J. D. Sheehan, who left Friday for her new home in Lyndonville. Bert Pettinell, who has been on the Charles Briggs farm the past year, has returned to his home in Lyndonville. Mr. Briggs will look after the farm until other arrangements can be made.

George Karkandis, a merchant of Montpelier, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, which has been referred to Referee W. N. Thurland of this city. A. A. Bargent of Barre is attorney for the bankrupt, who has liabilities of $18,000 and assets of $1,300 of which $200 is claimed exempt. There are 41 creditors, the majority of whom reside within the State.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pierce have returned to this city from Japan, where Mr. Pierce has been stationed in the interests of the Standard Oil company. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were in Japan a year ago and there the marriage took place. Their return was necessitated by the ill health of Mrs. Pierce. Eugene N. Buck, who has been conducting a motion picture house in California for a year, has returned to Montpelier to reside. He purchased the theatre of E. A.weeney, of this city, and sold it to Clarence Hupbee, who went to California seven years ago from this city.

There was no opposition to a dismissal being ordered in the bankrupt estate of Forrest L. Lewis of St. Albans at a meeting held before Referee W. N. Thurland Monday and recommendation will be made to the court to dismiss the case. The dismissal was ordered. The bankrupt failed to prosecute the case and will obtain no benefit from the proceedings. A discharge meeting in the case of C. H. Kendrick & Co. of Barre was also held and there was no opposition to the discharge being made. In the case of C. N. Kenyon & Co. of Barre checks were mailed to a half cent of the total, this being the first made.

Andrew McLean, for nearly 30 years a resident of White River Junction, and one of the original incorporators of the Vermont Baking company, died at his home in that place Sunday morning following an illness of several weeks. He was in his 69th year and was born in Inverness, Scotland, his parents moving when he was two years old, to Huntley, Aberdeenshire, in that country. There he lived till 16 years of age, when he came alone to America, living at first in New York, later settling in Boston, where he became a baker. He was a baker in 1897 he came to White River Junction and engaged in the general bakery business, which enterprise a year later was incorporated as the Vermont Baking company, with which corporation he continued, having charge of its manufacturing department until his death. His business associates of recent years were Robert C. Smith, E. Smith & Sons and George C. West, and the history of the plant is one of a continuous and uninterrupted growth. For 15 years the home of the deceased had been the Junction House and it was from its parlors that the funeral was held at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with services conducted by the Rev. J. F. Burdett, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Mr. Burdett, who was assisted by a male quartette consisting of Leroy Neal, C. E. Bogie, W. J. Harding and A. E. Wright. The chief mourner, the fiancée of Mr. McLean, Miss Mary Gleason, widely known to the traveling public as the head waitress of the Junction House. The marriage of Miss Gleason and the deceased had been for many years a happy one. The funeral organization was the Clermont, N. H., Lodge of Elks, the members of which include many residents of White River Junction. He also was a member of the local Myrtle Lodge, I. O. O. F., and many of its members were present. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. As a tribute to the deceased the entire plant of the Vermont Baking company was closed for the day at noon. The bearers were Mr. Smith and Mr. West of the corporation and James C. Smith and Frank Warren, foremen of departments in the plant. Interment was in the original village cemetery on South Main street. Mr. McLean is survived by two sisters and two brothers, all living in Huntley, Scotland.

Much excitement was caused in this and neighboring villages this week because of the renewed and emphatic orders prohibiting public travel over the Boston & Maine railroad, Northern & Passumpsic bridges.
